Allo MA,

I just got a call from a researcher with CBC The National. They are preparing a story for next week which will talk about Organized Crime being involved in sports betting and fixing up matches. The story came up due to an incident that took place in Trois-Rivieres in 2009 when a team called Toronto Croatia, fixed the soccer match that took place there.

- How big match fixing / sports betting by organized crime?
- What does the RCMP know about it?
- What are the concerns?

I have CC'd Greer on it in case her client has some kind of involvement.

Richard:

Reporter: CBC The National

Thanks
 Julie

Gents,

The story came up due to an incident that took place in Trois-Rivieres in 2009 when a team called Toronto Croatia, fixed the soccer match that took place there. The reporter also has more generic questions such as:

- How big match fixing / sports betting by organized crime?
- What does the RCMP know about it?
- What are the concerns?

Any feedback/response would be greatly appreciated.

Francois would you have any knowledge in this area. Although aware that OC Groups do partake in gaming in regards to sports . Pro-line in Canada has made sports betting more popular in Canada

Any thoughts.

As Wayne has pointed out in his email, we don't have anything of any value to add to this.
